For businesses transporting goods around the world, we provide the insurance you need for the risks you face. 'TT' stands for 'through transport', reflecting the door-to-door nature of these risks. Of course, many operators are only involved in a specific part of the supply chain process, which is why we always ensure our cover is tailored to your particular requirements. So you only pay for what you need – no more and no less.

And we work with all sorts of customers – from some of the world's largest logistics operators, shipping lines, ports, freight forwarders and cargo handling terminals, to companies operating on a smaller scale but whose activities face similar risks.

We have an excellent annual retention rate: 95%. In fact, many of our customers have been with the Club for over 20 years. They continue to choose TT Club because of the value of our underwriting, claims and loss prevention expertise and support.

As members or participants, TT Club engages in international forums and trade associations, including The British Ports Association, Port Skills & Safety and UK Harbour Masters Association.
